

- A
- a B is going to read a sentence to you, including the sound BLEEP, which means that a word is missing. Guess the missing word by adding a prefix (e.g. anti, re, etc.) to the first word in your list (cook), and make any other necessary changes.

1 cook 2 social 3 pay 4 consider 5 line
6 national 7 pronounce 8 react 9 play 10 mature

- b Read your first sentence in c to B. B will try to guess the missing word.
- c Continue taking turns to read your sentences.
- The film isn't as good as the reviews say. It's very BLEEP. (overrated)
 - You got the wrong end of the stick and completely BLEEP what I said. (misunderstood)
 - He might look a bit tired now but don't BLEEP him. He could still win this match. (underestimate)
 - My boss isn't happy with my report so he's asked me to make some changes and has asked me to BLEEP it. (rewrite)
 - Visitors to the hospital have to wash their hands with BLEEP soap before they enter a ward. (antibacterial)
 - In hot weather it's easy to become BLEEP if you don't drink enough liquids. (dehydrated)
 - BLEEP forces managed to put down the rebellion. (pro-government)
 - I proposed having the Christmas party on December the 23rd, but I was BLEEP by my colleagues. (outvoted)
 - I've been living in the village for years, but I still feel like an BLEEP. I don't feel part of the community. (outsider)
 - It was a BLEEP attack. The criminals had been watching his house for several days. (premeditated)

- B
- a Read your first sentence in c to A. Explain that the sound BLEEP represents a missing word. A will try to guess the missing word.
- b Now A is going to read a sentence to you, including BLEEP. Guess the missing word by adding a prefix (e.g. anti, re, etc.) to the first word in your list (rate), and make any other necessary changes.

1 rate 2 understand 3 estimate 4 write 5 bacteria
6 hydrate 7 government 8 vote 9 side 10 meditate

- c Continue taking turns to read your sentences.
- Sorry, but my steak is a bit BLEEP. I asked for it to be well-done. (undercooked)
 - The government are introducing new measures to try to control BLEEP behaviour in young people. (antisocial)
 - Please return this form in the BLEEP envelope provided. (prepaid)
 - I want you to BLEEP your decision to leave the company. (reconsider)
 - Could you give me a brief BLEEP of tomorrow's events? (outline)
 - The opposition party are pressing the government to BLEEP the health service. (denationalize)
 - The problem with my name is because it's foreign, people always BLEEP it. (mispronounce)
 - My dad totally BLEEP when I told him I'd failed my exams. In fact, he went crazy! (overreacted)
 - The champion completely BLEEP his rival, and the match was over very quickly. (outplayed)
 - He looked BLEEP old because he had such an unhealthy lifestyle. (prematurely)