

American people are more friendly than British people.

Classical music is the most relaxing kind of music.

Dogs make the best pets.

Friday is the best day of the week for going out.

Food that tastes good is usually bad for you.

Girls are better at learning languages than boys.

Italian food is the most popular in the world.

Money doesn't make you happy.

Most men today help a lot with the housework.

People who have red cars usually drive fast and aggressively.

Sports players are good role models for young people.

Women have a much better sense of style than men.