

A

the people who watch a film in a cinema or theatre

B

something that you buy at a very good price

C

a film which makes you laugh

D

a big shop usually on several floors where you can buy all kinds of things (two words)

E

people who appear in a film, e.g. in crowd scenes, but who don't talk somebody who really likes a sports team or film star, etc.

F

G

a written promise that a shop will repair something you buy

H

a brave person who people admire

I

a person who invents things

J

'Can I help you?'
'No thanks.
I'm _____ looking.'

K

What _____ of films do you like?

L

a place where you can borrow books

M

a person who is in charge of a shop, restaurant or business, etc.

N

the shop where you can buy papers and magazines

O

Many people today shop _____ (i.e. use the Internet).

P

the story of a film

Q

to stand in line when you are waiting for something

R

a piece of paper they give you when you buy something

S

a time when shops sell things cheaper

T

a film with a very exciting story, e.g. Hitchcock's Psycho

U

Bill Gates set _____ a foundation to help children all over the world.

V

a person who plays the violin

W

a film about cowboys
