

A

- a You are a tourist in London. You would like to visit the Sherlock Holmes Museum and the Bloody Tower. B works for tourist information. Ask B politely for the following information, using Could you tell me...?

Sherlock Holmes Museum

open on Saturdays? _____
 what time / close? _____
 where? _____
 adult's ticket? £ _____

The Bloody Tower

open on Sundays? _____
 what time / open? _____
 what / nearest tube station? _____
 child's ticket? £ _____

- b Now you work for tourist information in London. Use the information below to answer B's questions.

If you like murder mysteries and horror stories...
you must visit these places in London
The Chamber of Horrors This is part of the world-famous Madame Tussaud's museum. Here you can see waxworks of many infamous murderers, including Vlad the Impaler, Jean-Paul Marat, Dr Crippen, and many more. Address Madame Tussaud's Marylebone Road (near Baker Street tube station) London Opening hours Weekdays 9.30 to 17.30 Weekends 9.00 to 18.00 Admission Adult £23.99 Child (under 16) £19.99	The London Dungeon This attraction recreates many of history's most horrific events. Explore the streets of Victorian London that were home to the serial killer Jack the Ripper, relive the Great Fire of London, and take a boat down the River Thames to the infamous Traitors' Gate at the Tower of London. Address London Dungeon 28-34 Tooley Street, London SE1 2SZ Opening hours Every day 9.30 a.m. to 5.30 p.m. Admission Adult £15.50 Child (5 to 15) £10.95

- c Compare your information with B. You can visit just one of these places. Try to agree which one and why.